THE WEST IN LINE

Pan-American Exposition in Strong Favor

The great west is thoroughly alive to the importance of the Pan-American exposition and the necessity of being well represented there. Montana is wide awake and a bill has been introduced in the legislature appropriating $50,000 for the purpose of making an exhibit. The Helena (Mont.) Daily Record of January 25th contained the following:

"I do not think there is a state west of the Mississippi river which will not be represented," said Samuel Wolfsohn, special commissioner of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, who arrived at the Helena yesterday to push before the legislature the bill appropriating money for the Montana exhibit. Everything is going so well out west that there seems to be no necessity for any members of the executive committee to come out, as was contemplated.

"In Wyoming a bill has been introduced appropriating $15,000, and that state will make a handsome display of its coal, copper and petroleum. Oregon will appropriate $30,000 and Washington $50,000. In Idaho progress has been delayed by the material fight, but there is no doubt that state will make an appropriation for it wants to display its mineral resources. I am going there from here. I attended the Live Stock convention at Salt Lake.
